vnto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if wee shall reape your carnall things? <sup>12</sup> If others be partakers of this power ouer you, are not we rather? Neuertheless, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the Gospel of Christ. <sup>13</sup> Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things, eat liue of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar? <sup>14</sup> Euen so hath the Lord ordeined, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.

<sup>15</sup> But I haue vsed none of these things. Neither haue I written these things, that it should be so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my glorying void.

<sup>16</sup> For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to glory of: for necessitie is laid vpon mee, yea, woe is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel. <sup>17</sup> For if I doe this thing willingly, I haue a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the Gospel is committed vnto me. <sup>18</sup> What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the Gospel. <sup>19</sup> For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all, that I might gaine the more.

<sup>20</sup> And vnto the Iewes, I became as a Iew, that I might gaine the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Law, as vnder the Law, that I might gaine them that are vnder the Law: <sup>21</sup> To them that are without Law, as without Law (being not without Law to God, but vnder the Law to Christ), that I might gaine them that are without Law. <sup>22</sup> To the weake became I as weake, that I might gaine the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

1. PAUL an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothee our brother, vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinth, with all the Saints, which are in all Achaia: <sup>2</sup> Grace bee to you and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ. <sup>3</sup> Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort, <sup>4</sup> Who comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comforte them which are in any trouble, by the comfort, wherewith we our selues are comforted of God. <sup>5</sup> For as the sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

<sup>6</sup> And whether wee be afflicted, it is for your consolation and saluation, which is <sup>6</sup> effectuall in the enduring of the same sufferings, which wee also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation, and saluation. <sup>7</sup> And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

<sup>8</sup> For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came to vs in Christe, and hath anoynted vs. <sup>22</sup> Which hath also sealed vs, and hath given the earnest of the Sprite in our heartes.

2. NOW, I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that for to fauer you I came not as yet vnto Corinthus. Not that we be lordes ouer your faith, but we are helpers of your ioye. for by faith ye stande. But I determined thus in my selfe, that I would not come agayne to you in heuynes. <sup>2</sup> For yf I make you sory, who is he that should make me glad, but the same which is made sory by me? <sup>3</sup> And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heynes of them, of whom I oght to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioye is the ioye of you all. <sup>4</sup> For in great affliction, and anguyshe of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sory, but that ye myght perceaue the loue which I haue, moste specially vnto you.

<sup>5</sup> If any man hath caused sorow, the same hath not made me sory, but partly, lest I should greue him. Not withstanding he hath made you all sory. <sup>6</sup> It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many. <sup>7</sup> So that now contrarywise, ye oght rather to forgeue him and comforte him, lest that same persone should be swallowed vp with ouer muche heuynes. <sup>8</sup> Wherefore, I praye you, that you wolde confirme your loue towards him. <sup>9</sup> For this cause verely dyd I write, that I myght knowe the profe of you, whether ye wolde be obedient in all thynges.

<sup>10</sup> To whom ye forgene any thyng, I forgoue also. for verely yf I forgoue any thing, to whom I forgoue it, for your sakes forgue I it in the sight of Christe: <sup>11</sup> Lest Satan should preuent vs: for his enterprises are not vnknowen vnto vs. <sup>12</sup> Further more, when I came to Troas to preache Christes Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord. <sup>13</sup> I had no rest in my sprite, because I found

2. AND I haue determined vvith my self this same thing, not to come to you againe in sorovv. <sup>2</sup> For if I make you sorie: and who is it that can make me glad, but he that is made sorie by me? <sup>3</sup> And this same I vvrote to you: that I may not, vvhen I come, haue sorovv vpon sorovv, of the vvchich I oght to reioyce: trusting in you al, that my ioy is the ioy of you al. <sup>4</sup> For of much tribulation and anguish of hart I vvrote to you by many teares: not that you should be made sorie: but that you may knovv vvhat charitie I haue more abundantly tovvard you. <sup>5</sup> And if any man hath made sorovvful, not me hath he made sorovvful, but in part, that I burden not al you. <sup>6</sup> To him that is such a one, this rebuke sufficeth that is giuen of many: <sup>7</sup> so that contrariwise you should rather pardon and comfort him, lest perhaps such an one be svvalloved vp vvith ouer great sorovv. <sup>8</sup> For the vvchich cause I beseeche you that you confirme charitie tovvard him. <sup>9</sup> For therefore also haue I vvritten that I may knovv the experiment of you, vvether in al things you be obedient. <sup>10</sup> And vvhom you haue pardoned any thing, I also. For, my self also that vvchich I pardoned, if I pardoned any thing, for you in the person of Christ, <sup>11</sup> that vve be not circumvented of Satan. for vve are not ignoran of his cogitations.

2. BVT I determined this with my selfe, that I would not come agayne to you in heauinesse. <sup>2</sup> For if I make you sorie, who is hee then that maketh mee glad, but the same which is made sorie by me. <sup>3</sup> And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I should haue sorrow from them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all. <sup>4</sup> For out of much affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares, not that you should be grieved, but that ye might knowe the loue which I haue more abundantly vnto you. <sup>5</sup> But if any haue caused griefe, he hath not grieved mee, but in part: that I may not ouercharge you all. <sup>6</sup> Sufficient to such a man is this <sup>a</sup> punishment, which was inflicted of many. <sup>7</sup> So that contrariwise, yee ought rather to forgieue him, and comfort him, lest perhaps, such a one should be swallowed vp with ouermuch sorrow. <sup>8</sup> Wherefore I beseech you, that you would confirme your loue towards him. <sup>9</sup> For to this end also did I write, that I might knowe the profe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

<sup>10</sup> To whom yee forgieue any thing, I forgieue also: for if I forgoue any thing, to whom I forgoue it, for your sakes forgoue I it, <sup>b</sup> in the person of Christ. <sup>11</sup> Lest Satan should get an aduantage of vs: for we are not ignorant of his deuices. <sup>12</sup> Furthermore when I came to Troas, to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto mee of the Lord. <sup>13</sup> I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not this excadinge glory. <sup>11</sup> For yf that which is destroyed was glorious, moche more that which remaineth, is glorious.

<sup>12</sup> Seyng then that we have soch trust, we vse great boldnes, <sup>13</sup> and do not as Moses, which put a vayne ouer hys face, that the children of Israel shuld not se for what purpose that serued which is put awaye. <sup>14</sup> But their myndes were blinded. For vntill this daye remaineth the same coveringe vntaken awaye in the lecture of the olde testament, which vayne shalbe put awaye in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But euen vnto this daye when Moses is redde the vayne hangeth before their hertes. <sup>16</sup> Neuertheless when they tourne to the Lorde, the vayne shalbe taken away. <sup>17</sup> The Lord no dout is a sprete. And where the sprete of the Lorde is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all beholde in a myrroure the glorie of the Lorde with his face open, and are changed vnto the same similitude, from glory to glory, euen as of the spryte of the Lorde.

4. THERFORE, seying that we haue soch an office, euen as God hath had mercy on vs, we go not out of kynde: <sup>2</sup> but haue cast from vs the clokes of vnonestye, and walke not in craftynes, nether handle we the worde of God disceafally, but open the truthe, and reporte oure selues to euery mannes conscience in the syght of God. <sup>3</sup> If oure Gospell be yet hyd, it is hid amonge them that are lost, <sup>4</sup> in whom the God of this world hath blynded the myndes of them which beleue not, lest the light of the gospell of the glory of Christ (which is the ymage of God) shulde shyne vnto them.

<sup>5</sup> For we preache not our selues, but Christ Iesus to be the Lorde, and our selues youre seruautes, for Iesus sake. <sup>6</sup> For it is God, that commaunded the lyght to shyne out of darknes, which hath shyned in oure hertes, for to geue the lyght of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.

that is, as touching that exceeding glorie. <sup>11</sup> For if that which should be destroyed was glorious, much more shal that which remaineth, be glorious. <sup>12</sup> Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vse great playnes of speeche. <sup>13</sup> And we are not as Moses, which put a vayne ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not see, for what purpose that serued which ought to be put away. <sup>14</sup> Therefore their myndes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same conering vntaken away in the Olde testament when they read it, which vayne in Christe is put away. <sup>15</sup> But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, that vayne is layed ouer their hearts.

<sup>16</sup> Neuerthelesse when they hartes shalbe tourned to the Lord, the vayne shalbe taken away. <sup>17</sup> The Lord no dout is the Sprite: and where the Sprite of the Lord is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all beholde as in a myrrour the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, euen of the Sprite of the Lord.

4. THEREFORE, seying that we haue this office, as we haue receaued mercie, we faynte not: <sup>2</sup> But haue cast from vs the clokes of shame and walke not in craftines, nether handle we the worde of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth, report our selues to euery mans conscience in the syght of God. <sup>3</sup> If our Gospel be hyd, it is hyd to them, that are lost. <sup>4</sup> In whom the god of this worlde hath blinded the mindes, that is, in the infidels, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, should shyne vnto them.

<sup>5</sup> For we preache not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruantes, for Iesus sake. <sup>6</sup> For God that commanded the lyght to shyne out of darknes, is he which hath shynd in our hearts, for to geue the lyght of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of reason of the excelleng glorie. <sup>11</sup> For if for that which is made void, is by glorie: much more that vvhich abideth, is in glorie.

<sup>12</sup> Hauing therefore such hope, vve vse much confidence: <sup>13</sup> and not as Moyses put a veye vpon his face, that the children of Israel might not behold his face, vvhich is made void, <sup>14</sup> but their senses vvere dilled. For vntill this present day, the self same veye in the lecture of the old testament remaineth vvreuealed (because in Christ it is made void) <sup>15</sup> but vntill this present day, vvhē Moyses is read, a veye is put vpon their hart. <sup>16</sup> But vvhē he shal be conuerted to our Lord, the veye shal be taken avay. <sup>17</sup> And our Lord is a Spirit. And vvhē the Spirit of our Lord is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But vve all, beholding the glorie of our Lord vvhich face reuealed, are transformed into the same image from glorie vnto glorie, as of our Lordes Spirit.

4. THEREFORE hauing this ministracion: according as vve haue obtained mercie, vve faile not, <sup>2</sup> but vve renounce the secrete thinges of dishonestie, not walking in craftines, nor adulterating the vword of God, but in manifestation of the truth commending our selues to euery conscience of men before God. <sup>3</sup> And if our Gospel be also hidde, in them that perish it is hidde, <sup>4</sup> in vvhom the God of this vvorlde hath blinded the mindes of the infidels, that the illumination of the Gospel of the glorie of Christ vwho is the image of God, might not shine to them.

<sup>5</sup> For vve preache not our selues, but Iesus Christ our Lord: and vs, your seruants by Iesus, <sup>6</sup> because God that commanded lyght to shine of darknes, he hath shined in our hartes to the illumination of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Christ Iesus.

reason of the glorie that excelleth. <sup>11</sup> For if that which is done away, was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

<sup>12</sup> Seeing then that we haue such hope, we vse great plainnesse of speech. <sup>13</sup> And not as Moses, which put a vaine ouer his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished: <sup>14</sup> But their mindes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vaine vntaken away, in the reading of the old testament: which vaine is done away in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vaine is vpon their heart. <sup>16</sup> Neuerthelesse, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaine shal be taken away. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is that spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all, with open face beholding as in a glasse the glorie of the Lord, are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, euen as <sup>19</sup> by the spirit of the Lord.

4. THEREFORE, seeing we haue this ministry, as we haue receiued mercie we faint not: <sup>2</sup> But haue renounced the hidden thinges of dishonesty, not walking in craftines, nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by manifestation of the truth, commending our selues to euery mans conscience, in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> But if our Gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost: <sup>4</sup> In whom the God of this worlde hath blinded the mindes of them which beleene not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine vnto them. <sup>5</sup> For we preache not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

rejoyced muche more. <sup>8</sup> For, thogh I made you sorry with a letter, I repent not, thogh I dyd repent: for I perceave that the same epistle made you sorry, thogh it were but for a season.

<sup>9</sup> I nowe rejoyce, not that ye were sorry, but that ye so sorrowed that ye amended: for ye sorrowed Godly: so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs. <sup>10</sup> For Godly sorrow causeth amendement vnto saluation, not to be repented of: when the worldly sorrow causeth death. <sup>11</sup> For beholde this thinge, that ye haue bene Godly sorry, what great care it hath wrought in you? yea, how hath it caused you to cleare your selues: yea what indignation hath it caused: yea what feare: yea how great desire: yea what a feruente mynde: yea what punishment? finally in all thinges ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are cleare in this matter. <sup>12</sup> Wherefore, thogh I wrote vnto you, I dyd not it for his cause that dyd hurt, nether for his cause that was hurt: but that our good mynde towards you in the syght of God, myght appeare vnto you.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore we were comforted, because ye were comforted: but moste of all we reioyced, for the ioye that Titus had: because hys sprite was refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup> For if I boasted my selfe any thing, to him of you, I was not ashamed: but as all thinges which I preached vnto you are true, euen so is our boasting, wherof I boasted my selfe to Titus, founde true. <sup>15</sup> And his inward affection is more abundant towards you, when he remembereth the obedience of euery one of you: and how with feare and trembling ye receaued him. <sup>16</sup> I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you, in all thynges.

8. I DO you also to wit brethren, of the grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia. <sup>2</sup> How that in great trial by affliction, their ioye abunded, reioyced the more. <sup>8</sup> For although I made you sorie in an epistle, I repenteth me not: alheit it repented me, seing that the same epistle (although but for a time) did make you sorie. <sup>9</sup> Nowy I am glad: not because you vvere made sorie, but because you vvere made sorie to penance. For you vvere made sorie according to God, that in nothing you should suffer detriment by vs.

<sup>10</sup> For the sorow that is according to God, vworketh penance vnto saluation that is stable: but the sorow of the vworld vworketh death. <sup>11</sup> For behold this very thing, that you vvere made sorie according to God, hovv great carefulnes it vworketh in you; yea feare, yea indignation, yea feare, yea desire, yea emulation, yea reuenge, in al thinges you haue shewed your selues to be vndefiled in the matter.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore although I vvrote to you, not for him that did the iniurie, nor for him that suffered: but to manifest our carefulnes that vve haue for you before God, <sup>13</sup> therefore vve are comforted. But in our consolation, vve did the more abundantly reioyce vpon the ioy of Titus, because his spirit vvas refreshed of al you. <sup>14</sup> And if to him I gloried any thing of you, I am not confounded: but as vve spake al thinges to you in truth, so also our glorying that vvas to Titus, is made a truth, <sup>15</sup> and his bovels are more abundantly toward you: remembering the obedience of you al, hovv vvith feare and trembling you receiued him. <sup>16</sup> I reioyce that in al thinges I haue confidence in you.

8. AND vve doe you to vnderstand, brethren, the grace of God, that is giuen in the churches of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> that in much experience of tribulation they had so that I reioyced the more. <sup>8</sup> For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same Epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season. <sup>9</sup> Now I reioyce, not that ye were made sorie, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly maner, that ye might receive damage by vs in nothing. <sup>10</sup> For godly sorrow worketh repentance to saluation not to be repented of, but the sorrow of the world worketh death. <sup>11</sup> For behold this selfe same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulnesse it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of your selues, yea, what indignation, yea, what feare, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeale, yea what reuence? In all thinges ye haue approoued your selues to be cleare in this matter.

<sup>12</sup> Wherefore though I wrote vnto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you. <sup>13</sup> Therefore we were comforted in your comfort, yea and exceedingly the more ioyed wee for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you al. <sup>14</sup> For if I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed but as we speake all things to you in truth, euen so our boasting which I made before Titus, is found a truth. <sup>15</sup> And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with feare and trembling you received him. <sup>16</sup> I reioyce therefore that I haue confidence in you in all thinges.

8. MOREOUE, brethren, wee do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the Churches of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> How that in a great trial of affliction, the

and the pouertie which had consumed them, euen to the very botome, abounded vnto their moste riche liberalitie. <sup>3</sup> For to their powers (I beare recorde) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing of their owne accord. <sup>4</sup> And prayed vs with great instance, that we wolde recaue their benefite, and suffre them to be partakers with other in ministring to the Saintes.

<sup>5</sup> And this they dyd, not as we loked fore: but gaue their owne selues fyrst to the Lord, and after vnto vs, by the wyl of God. <sup>6</sup> So that we could not but desire Titus to accomplish the same beneuolence among you also, euen as he had begone.
<sup>7</sup> Therefore, as ye are riche in all things, in faith, and in worde, and in knowledge, and in all diligence, and in loue towards vs, euen so se that ye be plentuious in this beneuolence also. <sup>8</sup> This say I, not as commanding, but because other are so feruent, therefore proue I your loue, whether it be sincere: <sup>9</sup> For ye know the liberalitie of our Lord Iesus Christ, which though he were ryche, yet for your sakes became poore: that ye through his pouer-tie, myght be made ryche. <sup>10</sup> And I shewe my minde here in: for this is expedient for you, which began not to do only, but also to wil, a yere a go. <sup>11</sup> Now therefore performe the thinge, that ye began to do: that as ther was in your a redynes to wyl, euen so ye may performe the dede, of that which ye haue.

<sup>12</sup> For yf ther be fyrst a willing mynde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. <sup>13</sup> Nether is it that other men shoulde be freed and you burdened. <sup>14</sup> But vpon like condition, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke: that also their abundance may supply your lacke: that their may be equalitie. <sup>15</sup> Agreeing to that which is written, He that gathered muche, had abundance of ioy, and their very deepe

<sup>3</sup> for according to their pover (I giue them testimonie) and aboute their pover they were willing, <sup>4</sup> with much exhortation requesting vs the grace and communication of the ministrie that is done toward the saintes. <sup>5</sup> And not as we hoped, but their owne selues they gaue, first to our Lord, then to vs by the wyl of God: <sup>6</sup> in so much that we desired Titus, that as he began, so also he wvould perfit in you this grace also. <sup>7</sup> But as in al things you abound in faith, and wvord, and knowledge, and al carefulnes, more-ouer also in your charitie toward vs, that in this grace also you may abound. <sup>8</sup> I speake not as commanding; but by the carefulnes of others, approving also the good disposition of your charitie. <sup>9</sup> For you know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that for you he vvas made poore, whereas he vvas riche: that by his pouertie you might be riche. <sup>10</sup> And in this point I giue counsel: for this is profitable for you, wvich haue begonne not only to doe, but also to be willing, from the yere past:

<sup>11</sup> but novv performe ye it also in deede:
 that as your minde is prompt to be vwill-ing, so it may be also to performe, of that wvchich you haue. <sup>12</sup> For if the wvill be prompt: it is accepted according to that wvchich it hath, not according to that wvchich it hath not. <sup>13</sup> For not that other should haue ease, and you tribulation: <sup>14</sup> but by an equalitie. Let in this present time your abundance supplie their vwant: that their abundance also may supplie your vwant, that there be an equalitie, <sup>15</sup> as it is wvritten: He that had much, abounded not: and he that had litle, vwanted not.

abundance of their ioy, and their deepe pouertie, abounded vnto the riches of their liberalitie.

<sup>3</sup> For to their power (I beare record) yea,
 and beyond their power they were willing
 of themselves: <sup>4</sup> Praying vs with much intreatie, that we would recieve the gift, and take vpon vs the fellowship of the ministring to the Saints. <sup>5</sup> And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gaue their owne selues to the Lord, and vnto vs by the will of God. <sup>6</sup> Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also. <sup>7</sup> Therefore (as ye abound in euery thing, in faith, and vterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue to vs) see that yee abound in this grace also.

<sup>8</sup> I speake not by commandement, but by occasion of the forwardnesse of others, and to prouee the sinceritie of your loue.
<sup>9</sup> For yee know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that though hee was rich, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that yee through his pouertie might be rich.
<sup>10</sup> And herein I giue my aduice, for this is expedient for you, who haue begun before, not onely to doe, but also to be forward a yere ago. <sup>11</sup> Now therefore performe the doing of it, that as ther was a readinesse to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which you haue. <sup>12</sup> For if there bee first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. <sup>13</sup> For I meane not that other men be eased, and you burthened: <sup>14</sup> But by an equalitie: that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equalitie. <sup>15</sup> As it is written, He that had gathered much, had nothing ouer, and hee that had gathered litle, had no lacke.
<sup>16</sup> But thanks be to God which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

of Titus, <sup>17</sup> for that he admitted in deede exhortation: but being more careful, of his owne vvill he vvent vnto you. <sup>18</sup> Vve haue sent also vvith him the brother, vvwhose praise is in the Gospel through all the churches: <sup>19</sup> and not only that, but also he vvwas ordeined of the churches fellow of our peregrination, for this grace vvwhich is ministred of vs to the glorie of our Lord, and our determined vvill: <sup>20</sup> auoiding this, lest any man might reprehend vs in this falnes that is ministred of vs.

FOR concerning the ministerie that is done toward the saintes, it is superfluous for me to vvrite vnto you. <sup>2</sup> For I know your prompt minde: for the which I glorie of you to the Macedonians: That Achaia also is ready from the yere past, and your emulation hath prouoked very many. <sup>3</sup> But I haue sent the brethren, that the thing vvwhich vve glorie of you, be not made voide in this behalfe, that (as I haue sayd) you may be ready: <sup>4</sup> lest vvhen the Macedonians shal come vvith me, and fynde you vvready, vve (that vve say not, ye) may be ashamed in this substance. <sup>5</sup> Therefore I thought it necessarie to desire the brethren that they vvould come to you, and prepare this blessing before promised,

AUTHORISED—1611.

<sup>17</sup> For indeed he accepted the exhortation, but being more forward, of his owne accord he went vnto you. <sup>18</sup> And wee haue sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the Gospel, throughout all the Churches. <sup>19</sup> And not that only, but who was also chosen of the Churches to trauaile with vs with this <sup>a</sup> grace which is administrated by vs to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your readie minde. <sup>20</sup> Auoyding this, that no man should blame vs in this abundance which is administrated by vs. <sup>21</sup> Prouiding for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but in the sight of men. <sup>22</sup> And we haue sent with them our brother, whom wee haue often times proued diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, vpon the great confidence which <sup>b</sup> I haue in you. <sup>23</sup> Whether any doe enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow helper concerning you: or our brethren bee enquired of, they are the messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ. <sup>24</sup> Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the Churches, the prooff of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe.

9. FOR as touching the ministring to the Saintes, it is superfluous for mee to write to you. <sup>2</sup> For I know the forwardnesse of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia, was ready a yere agoe, and your zeale hath prouoked very many. <sup>3</sup> Yet haue I sent the brethren, least our boasting of you should be in vaine in this behalfe, that as I saide, yee may be readie. <sup>4</sup> Lest happily if they of Macedonia come with mee, and find you vnprepared, wee (that wee say not, you) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting. <sup>5</sup> Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before vnto you, and make vp before hande your v bountie.

<sup>7</sup> Loke ye on things after the viter appearance? If any man truste in hym selfe that he is Christes, let the same lykewise consider of him selfe, that as he is Christes, euen so are we Christes. <sup>8</sup> For though I should boast my selfe some what more of our auctoritie, which the Lord hath geuen vs to edifie, and not to destroye you, I nedc not to be ashamed. <sup>9</sup> This I say lestc I should seme to make you afraied wyth letters. <sup>10</sup> For the letters (sayth he) are sore and stronge, but his bodely presence is weake, and his speach is of no value.

<sup>11</sup> Let hym that is suche, thinke that as we are in worde by letters when we are absent, suche wyl we be in dede, when we are present. <sup>12</sup> For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to them, which praise them selues: but they vnder stand not that they measure them selues with them selues, and compare them selues with them selues.

<sup>13</sup> But we wil not reioyce aboue measure, of things which are not with in the compas of our measure: but according to the measure of that line, wherof God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure, to reache euen vnto you. <sup>14</sup> For we stretche not our selues beyonde our measure, as though we had not reached vnto you: for euen to you also haue we come in preaching the Gospel of Christ. <sup>15</sup> Not boasting our selues of things which are without the compas of our measure: that is, of other mens labours: yea, and we hope, when your fayeth shal increase, to be magnified by you in our measure appointed vnto vs, and that abundantly. <sup>16</sup> And to preache the Gospel in those regions which are beyonde you: not to reioyce in the measure, which is appointed to an other man, that is, in them that are prepared already.

Satan him self transfigureth him self into an Angel of light.<sup>15</sup> It is no great matter therefore if his ministers be transfigured as the ministers of iustice: whose ende shal be according to their vvorke.

<sup>11</sup> I am become foolish: you haue compelled me. For I ought to haue been commended of you: for I haue been nothing lesse then they that are about measure Apostles: although I am nothing. <sup>12</sup> Yet the signes of my Apostleship haue been done vpon you in all patience, in signes and vonders and mighty deedes. <sup>13</sup> For vwhat is there that you haue had lesse then the other churches: but that I my self haue not burdened you? 1. PAVL an Apostle (not of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christe, and by God the Father which rayed him from death) <sup>2</sup> And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia :

<sup>3</sup> Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup> Which gaue him selfe for our synnes, to deliuer vs from this present euyl world according to the wyl of God our Father. <sup>5</sup> To whom be prayse for euer and euer, Amen. <sup>6</sup> I marueyle that ye are so soone tourned vnto another Gospel, forsaking him that had called you vnto the grace of Christ. <sup>7</sup> Seing there is no nother: but that there be some which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

<sup>8</sup> But though that we, or an Angel from heauen, preache vnto you otherwaies, then that which we haue preached vnto you, holde him as accused. <sup>9</sup> As we sayd before, so say I now agayne, Yf any man preache vnto you otherwaies, then that ye haue receaued, holde him accused. <sup>10</sup> For now preache I mans doctrine, or Gods? other go I about to please men? for if I studied yet to please men, I werc not the seruant of Christe. <sup>11</sup> I certifie you brethren, that the Gospel whych was preached Iesus Christ might be giuen to them that beleuee. <sup>23</sup> But before faith came, we were kept vnder the Law, shut vp vnto the faith, which should afterwards bee reuealed.

<sup>24</sup> Wherefore the Law was our Schoolemaster to bring vs vnto Christ, that we might be iustified by faith. <sup>25</sup> But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder a Schoolemaster. <sup>26</sup> For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Iesus. <sup>27</sup> For as many of you as haue bene baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ <sup>28</sup> There is neither Iew, nor Greeke, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus. <sup>29</sup> And if ye be Christis, then are ye Abrahams seed, and heires according to the promise.

4. NOW I say, that the heire, as long as hee is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though hee be Lord of all, <sup>2</sup> But is vnder tuters and gouernours vntill the time appointed of the father. <sup>3</sup> Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the Elementes of the world: <sup>4</sup> But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent fourth his Sonne made of a woman, made vnder the Law, <sup>5</sup> To redeme them that were vnder the Law, that we might receiue the adoption of sonnes. <sup>6</sup> And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent fourth the spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, crying Abba, Father. <sup>7</sup> Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne; and if a sonne, then an heire of God through Christ.

<sup>8</sup> Howbeit, then when ye know not God, ye did serueie vnto them which by nature are no Gods. <sup>9</sup> But now after that ye haue knowen God, or rather are knowen of God, how turne ye againe to the weak and beggerly Elementes, wherunto ye desire againe to be in bondage? <sup>10</sup> Ye obserue dayes, and moneths, and times, mo chylidren, then she which bath an housbande. <sup>28</sup> Therefore brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, chylidren of the promes. <sup>29</sup> But as then he that was borne carnally, persecuted hym that was borne spiritually: euen so it is now. <sup>30</sup> But, what sayth the Scripture? Put away the bonde woman, and her sonne, for the sonne of the bonde woman shal not be heyre with the sonne of the free woman. <sup>31</sup> So then brethren, we are not chylidren of the bond woman, but of the free woman, by that libertie wherwith Christ hath deliuered vs.

5. STANDE faste therefore, and not contrarely, wrap your selues in the yoke of bondage. <sup>2</sup> Beholde I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christe shal profit you nothing at all. <sup>3</sup> For I testifie agayne to euery man, which is circumcised, that he is bounde to kepe the whole Lawe. <sup>4</sup> Ye are gone quite from Christe as many as are iustified by the Lawe, and are fallen from grace. <sup>5</sup> We wayte for (by the Spirit through faith) the hope of the ryghtuousnes. <sup>6</sup> For in Iesus Christe, nether is Circumcision any thyng worth, nether yet vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue. <sup>7</sup> Ye dyd runne wel, who was a let vnto you, that ye dyd not obeye the truth? <sup>8</sup> This persuasion is not of him that called you.

Then is the slander of the crosse ceased. <sup>12</sup> I would to God they were cut of from you, which do disquiet you. <sup>13</sup> Brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie, only let not your libertie be an occasion vnto the fleshe, but in loue serue one an other.

<sup>14</sup> For all the Lawe is fulfilled in one word, which is this, Thou shalt loue thy then of her that hath a husband. <sup>28</sup> But we brethren, according to Isaac, are the chylidren of promis. <sup>29</sup> But as then he that was borne according to the flesh, persecuted him that was after the spirit: so now also. <sup>30</sup> But vwhat saith the Scripture? Cast out the bond-woman and her sonne, for the sonne of the bond-woman shal not be heire with the sonne of the free-woman. <sup>31</sup> Therefore brethren we are not the chylidren of the bond-woman, but of the free: by the freedom wherewith Christ hath made vs free.

5. STAND, and be not holden in agayne vwith the yoke of seruitude. <sup>2</sup> Behold I Paul tel you that if you be circumcised, Christ shal profite you nothing, <sup>3</sup> And I testifie agayne to euery man circumciding him self, that he is a detter to doe the vvhole Lavv. <sup>4</sup> You are euacuated from Christ, that are iustified in the Lavv: you are fallen from grace. <sup>5</sup> For vve in spirit, by faith, expect the hope of iustice. <sup>6</sup> For in Christ Iesus neither circumcison aualeth ought, nor prepuce: but faith that vworketh by charitie.

<sup>7</sup> You ranne vvel, vvho hath hindered you not to obeye the truth? <sup>8</sup> The persuasion is not of him that calleth you. <sup>9</sup> A litle leauen corrupteth the vvhole paste. <sup>10</sup> I haue confidence in you in our Lord: that you vvil be of no other minde: but he that troubleth you, shal beare the iudgement, vvhosoeuer he be. <sup>11</sup> And as for me, brethren, if as yet I preach circumcison, vvhy doe I yet suffer persecution? then is the scandall of the crosse euacuated. <sup>12</sup> I would they vvere also cut of that trouble you.

<sup>13</sup> For you, brethren, are called into libertie: only make not this libertie an occasion to the flesh, but by charitie serue one another. <sup>14</sup> For all the Lavv is fulfilled in one vvord: Thou shalt loue thy hath many moe chylidren then she which bath an husband. <sup>28</sup> Now wee, brethren, as Isaac was, are the chylidren of promise. <sup>29</sup> But as then hee that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the Spirit, euen so it is now. <sup>30</sup> Neurtherlesse, what saith the Scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shal not be heire with the sonne of the freewoman. <sup>31</sup> So then, brethren, we are not chylidren of the bondwoman, but of the free.

5. STAND fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and bee not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage. <sup>2</sup> Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shal profite you nothing. <sup>3</sup> For I testifie agayne to euery man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to doe the whole Law. <sup>4</sup> Christ is become of no effect vnto you, whosoeuer of you are iustified by the Law: ye are fallen from grace. <sup>5</sup> For we through the spirit waite for the hope of righteousnes by faith.

<sup>6</sup> For in Iesus Christ, neither Circumcision aualeth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue. <sup>7</sup> Ye did run wel; who did hinder you, that ye should not obeye the truth? <sup>8</sup> This perswasion commeth not of him that calleth you. <sup>9</sup> A litle leauen leaueneth the whole lump. <sup>10</sup> I haue confidence in you through the Lord, that you will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you, shall beare his iudgement, whosoeuer hee be. <sup>11</sup> And I, brethren, if I yet preach Circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the crosse ceased. <sup>12</sup> I would they were euen cut off which trouble you. <sup>13</sup> For brethren, yee haue bene called vnto libertie, onely use not libertie for an occasion to the flesh, but by loue serue one another. <sup>14</sup> For all the Law is fulfilled in one word, euen in this: Thou shalt loue thy neighbour

<sup>29</sup> For no man euer hated his owne flesh : as also Christ the Church ; <sup>30</sup> because vve be the members of his body, of his flesh and of his bones. <sup>31</sup> For this cause shal man leaue his father and mother : and shal cleaue to his wwife, and they shal be tevo in one flesh. <sup>32</sup> This is a great sacrament, but I speake in Christ and in the Church. <sup>33</sup> Neuertheless you also euey one, let eche loue his wwife as him self : and let the wwife feare her husband.

<sup>5</sup> Seruants, be obedient to your lordes according to the flesh, with feare and trembling, in the simplicitie of your hart, as to Christ ; <sup>6</sup> not seruing to the eie, as it were pleasing men, but as the seruants of Christ, doing the vvil of God from the hart, <sup>7</sup> vwith a good vvil seruing, as to our Lord and not to men. <sup>8</sup> Knowyng that euey one vvhath good soeuer he shal doe, that shal he receiue of our Lord, vvhether he be bond, or free. <sup>9</sup> And you maisters, doe the same things to them, remitting threatenings : knowyng that both their Lord and yours, is in heauen : and accepton of persons is not vwith him.

spot or wrinkle, or any such thing : but that it should bee holy and without blemish. <sup>28</sup> So ought men to loue their wuiues, as their owne bodies : hee that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe. <sup>29</sup> For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh : but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord the Church : <sup>30</sup> For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. <sup>31</sup> For this cause shall a man leaue his father and mother, and shalbe ioyned vnto his wife, and they two shalbe one flesh. <sup>32</sup> This is a great mystery : but I speake concerning Christ and the Church. <sup>33</sup> Neuertheless, let euey one of you in particular, so loue his wife euen as himselfe, and the wife see that she reuerence her husband.

6. CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord : for this is right. <sup>2</sup> Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commendement with promise.) <sup>3</sup> That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest lue long on the earth. <sup>4</sup> And ye fathers, prouoke not your children to wrath : but bring them vp in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. <sup>5</sup> Seruants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with feare and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as vnto Christ : <sup>6</sup> Not with eye seruce as men pleasers, but as the seruants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart : <sup>7</sup> With good will doing seruce, as to the Lord, and not to men. <sup>8</sup> Knowyng that whatsoeuer good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receiue of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

<sup>9</sup> And ye masters, doe the same things vnto them, forbearing threatenynge : knowyng that <sup>β</sup> your master also is in heauen, neither is there respect of persons with him. <sup>10</sup> Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his

<sup>3</sup> We giue thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, praying alwayes for you, <sup>4</sup> Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of the loue which yee haue to all the Saints, <sup>5</sup> For the hope which is layd vp for you in heauen, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the Gospel, <sup>6</sup> Which is come vnto you as it is in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day yee heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth, <sup>7</sup> As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruant, who is for you a faithfull Minister of Christ: <sup>8</sup> Who also declared vnto vs your loue in the spirit.

<sup>9</sup> For this cause wee also, since the day we heard it, doe not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdome and spirituall vvnderstanding:

5. BUT of the tymes and the seasons, brethren, yee haue no need that I write vnto you. <sup>2</sup> For your selues know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a theefe in the nyght. <sup>3</sup> For when they shall say, Peace and safetie: then sudden destruction cometh vpon them, as traualle vpon a woman with child, and they shall not escape. <sup>4</sup> But ye, brethren, are not in darknesse, that that day should ouertake you as a theefe. <sup>5</sup> Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: wee are not of the nyght, nor of darknesse. <sup>6</sup> Therefore let vs not sleepe, as do others: but let vs watch and be sober. <sup>7</sup> For they that sleepe, sleepe in the nyght, and they that bee druncken, are druncken in the nyght. <sup>8</sup> But let vs who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and loue, and for an helmet, the hope of saluation. <sup>9</sup> For God hath not appointed vs to wrath: but to obtayne saluation by our Lord Iesus Christ, <sup>10</sup> who died for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we should lye together with him. <sup>11</sup> Wherefore, comfort your selues together, and edifie one another, euen as also ye doe.

<sup>12</sup> And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are ouer you in the Lord, and admonish you: <sup>13</sup> And to esteeme them very highly in loue for their workes sake, and be at peace among your selues. <sup>14</sup> Now wee exhort you, brethren, warne them that are vnruely, comfort the feeble minded, support the weake, be patient toward all men. <sup>15</sup> See that none render euil for euil vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both among your selues and to all men.

he take care of the Church of God? <sup>6</sup> Not a novice, lest being lifted vp with pride, hee fall into the condemnation of the deuil. <sup>7</sup> Moreover, hee must haue a good report of them which are without, lest he fall into reproch, and the snare of the deuil.

<sup>8</sup> Likewise must the Deacons bee graue, not double tongued, not giuen to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre, <sup>9</sup> Holding the mysterie of the faith in a pure conscience. <sup>10</sup> And let these also first be proued; then let them vse the office of a Deacon, being found blamelesse. <sup>11</sup> Euen so must their wiues be graue; not slanderers, sober, faithfull in all things. <sup>12</sup> Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children, and their owne houses well. <sup>13</sup> For they that haue used the office of a Deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldnesse in the faith, which is in Christ Iesus. <sup>14</sup> These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come vnto thee shortly. <sup>15</sup> But if I tary long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the House of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ground of the trueth. <sup>16</sup> And without conuersione, great is the mysterie of godlinesse: God was manifest in the flesh, iustified in the Spirit, sene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleueed on in the world, receiued vp into glory.

4. NOW the Spirit speaketh expresly, that in the latter tymes some shall depart from the faith, giuing heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of deuils: <sup>2</sup> Speaking lies in hypocrisie, hauing their conscience seared with a hote iron, <sup>3</sup> Forbidding to marry, and commanding to absteyne from meates, which God hath created to bee receiued with thankesgiuing of them which beleuee, and know the trueth. <sup>4</sup> For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thankesgiuing: <sup>5</sup> For it is

Christ Iesus, before the world began, 10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Sauuour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie to light, through the Gospel: 11 Whereunto I am appointed a Preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. 12 For the which cause
 I also suffer these thynges; neuerthelesse, I am not ashamed: for I know whom I haue beleued, and I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that which I haue committed vnto him against that day.
 13 Holde fast the fourme of sound vvords, which thou hast heard of mee, in fayth and loue, which is in Christ Iesus. 14 That good thyng which was committed vnto thee, keepe, by the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs. 15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me, of whom are Phylgellus and Hermogenes. 16 The Lord geue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for hee oft refreshed mee, and was not ashamed of my chayne. 17 But when he was in Rome, hee sought mee out very diligently, and found mee. 18 The Lord grant vnto him, that he may finde mercie of the Lord in that day: And in how many thynges hee ministred vnto mee at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

2. THOU therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.
 2 And the thynges that thou hast heard of mee among many vvitnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teache others also. 3 Thou therefore indure hardnesse, as a good souldier of Iesus Christ. 4 No man that warreth, intangleth himselfe with the affaires of this life, that hee may please him who hath chosen him to be a souldier.

vvanting. <sup>2</sup> For to vs also it hath been denounced, as also to them, but the vvord of hearing did not profit them, not mixt vvith faith of those things vvwhich they heard. <sup>3</sup> For vve that haue beleued, shall enter into the rest: as he said, As I swear in my vvraath, if they shall enter into my rest: and truly the vvorkes from the foundation of the vvorld being perfited.

<sup>4</sup> For he said in a certayne place of the seuenth day, thus: And God rested the seuenth day from all his workes. <sup>5</sup> And agayne in this, If they shall enter into my rest. <sup>6</sup> Because then it remaineth that certayne enter into it, and they to vvhom first it vvvas preached, did not enter because of incredulitie: <sup>7</sup> agayne he limiteth a certayne day: To day, in Dauid saying, after so long time, as is aboue said, To day if you shall heare his voice: doe not obdurate your hartes. <sup>8</sup> For if Iesus had giuen them rest: he vvould neuer speake of an other day afterward. <sup>9</sup> Therefore there is left a sabbatisme for the people of God. <sup>10</sup> For he that is entred into his rest, the same also hath rested from his vvorkes, as God from his.

<sup>11</sup> Let vs hasten therefore to enter into that rest: that no man fall into the same example of incredulitie. <sup>12</sup> For the vvord of God is liuely and forcible, and more persing then any two edged svword: and reaching vnto the diuision of the soule and the spirit, of the ioyntes also and the marowes, and a discerner of the cogitations and intenes of the hart. <sup>13</sup> And there is no creature inuisible in his sight, but all things are naked and open to his eies, to vvhom our speache is.

<sup>14</sup> Having therefore a great high Priest that hath entred the heauens, lvsstvs the sonne of God, let vs hold the confession. <sup>15</sup> For vve haue not a high priest that can

it. <sup>2</sup> For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as well as vnto them: but <sup>a</sup> the word preached did not profit them, <sup>b</sup> not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. <sup>3</sup> For we which haue beleued do enter into rest, as hee said, As I haue sworne in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest, although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world. <sup>4</sup> For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth day on this wise: And God did rest the seuenth day from all his works. <sup>5</sup> And in this place agayne: If they shall enter into my rest. <sup>6</sup> Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached, entred not in because of vnbeleife: <sup>7</sup> Agayne, hee limiteth a certayne day, saying in Dauid, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts. <sup>8</sup> For if Iesus had giuen them rest, then would he not afterward haue spoken of another day. <sup>9</sup> There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God. <sup>10</sup> For he that is entred into his rest, hee also hath ceased from his owne workes, as God did from his.

<sup>11</sup> Let vs labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of vnbeleefe. <sup>12</sup> For the word of God is quicke and powerful, and sharper then any two edged sword, piercing euen to the diuiding asunder of soule and spirit, and of the ioyntes and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. <sup>13</sup> Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked, and opened vnto the eyes of him with whome we haue to doe. <sup>14</sup> Seeing then that wee haue a great high Priest, that is passed into the heauens, Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession. <sup>15</sup> For we haue not such as haue nede of mylke, and not of stronge meat: <sup>13</sup> For euery man that is fed wyth mylke, is inexpert in the worde of righteousnes: for he is but a babe. <sup>14</sup> But stronge meat belongeth to them that are growen in age, which through custome haue their wittes exercised, to iudge both good and euyl.

THERFORE leauing the doctryne that pertayneth to the begynnyng of Christen men, let vs go forth vnto perfeccion, not layng agayne the foundacion of repentance from deed workes and of fayth toward God, <sup>2</sup> of baptyssinges, of doctryne, and of layng on of handes, and of resurrection from deeth and of eternal iudgement. <sup>2</sup> And so wyll we do If God permitte. <sup>4</sup> For it can not be that they which were once lyghted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gifte, and were become partakers of the holy goost, <sup>5</sup> and haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the power of the worlde to come: <sup>6</sup> yf they fall away (and as concernynge them selues crucifie the sonne of God a fresshe, and make a mocke of hym) that they shulde be reneud agayne by repentance.

6. THEREFORE, let vs leaue the doctrine pertyeing to the beginning of a Christen man, and let vs go vnto perfection, and no more laye the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God. <sup>2</sup> Of the doctrine of baptisment, and laying on of handes, and of resurrection from the dead, and of eternal iudgement. <sup>3</sup> And so wil we do, if God permit. <sup>4</sup> For it is not possible that they, which were once lyghted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Gost, <sup>5</sup> And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the power of the worlde to come: <sup>6</sup> If they fall away, should be reneued agayne by repentance: forasmuche as they haue crucified to them selues the Sonne of God a freshe, making a mocke of hym.

<sup>7</sup> For the earth which drinketh in the rayne that cometh ofte vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes meete for them that dresse it, receaueth blessing of God. <sup>8</sup> But that grounde which beareth thornes and bryars, is repproued, and is nye vnto cursyng: whose ende is to be burned. <sup>9</sup> But deare friendes we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and suche as accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

<sup>10</sup> For God is not vnrighteous, that he should forget your worke, and labour that procedeth of loue, which loue ye shewed toward hys Name, in that ye haue ministered vnto the Sanctes, and yet minister. <sup>11</sup> And we desire that euery one of you shewe the same diligence, to the full perswasion of hope, euen vnto the ende. <sup>12</sup> That ye faint not, but be folowers of them, which through fayth and patience, you are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate. <sup>13</sup> For euery one that is partaker of milke, is vnskillful of the vvord of iustice: for he is a childe. <sup>14</sup> But strong meate is for the perfect, them that by custome haue their senses exercised to the discerning of good and euil.

6. VVHEREFORE intermitting the vvord of the doctrine of Christ, let vs proceede to perfection, not againe laying the foundation of penance from dead vvorkes, and of faith toward God, <sup>2</sup> of the doctrine of baptisment, and of imposition of handes, and of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal iudgement. <sup>3</sup> And this shal vve doe, if God vvill permit. <sup>4</sup> For it is impossible for them that were once illuminated, haue tasted also the heauenly gift, and vvere made partakers of the holy Ghost, <sup>5</sup> haue moreover tasted the good vvord of God, and the povvers of the worlde to come, <sup>6</sup> and are fallen: to be reneued agayne to penance, crucifying agayne to them selues the sonne of God, and making him a mockerie. <sup>7</sup> For the earth drinking the rayne often comming vpon it, and bringing forth grasse commodious for them by vvhom it is tilled, receiuethe blessing from God. <sup>8</sup> but bringing forth thornes and bryers, it is reprobate, and very neere a curse, vvwhose end is, to be burnt.

<sup>13</sup> For God promising to Abraham, because he had none greater by vvhom he might swear, he sware by him self, <sup>14</sup> saying, Vvales blessing I shal blesse thee, and multiplying shal multiply thee. <sup>15</sup> And so patiently enduring he obtained the promise. <sup>16</sup> For men svvare by a greater then them selues : and the end of al their controuersie, for the confirmation, is an othe. <sup>17</sup> Vvherein God meaning more abundantly to shew to the heires of the promise the stabilitie of his counsel, he interposed an othe : <sup>18</sup> that by tvvo thynges vvmoueable, vvheryby it is impossible for God to lie, vve may haue a most strong comfort. vvhoe haue fled to hold fast the hope proposed, <sup>19</sup> vvhich vve haue as an anker of the soule, sure and firme, and going in into the inner partes of the vele, <sup>20</sup> vvhoe Iesus the precursor for vs is entred, made a high priest for euer accordyng to the order of Melchisedec.

whose kindred is not counted among them, receaueth tythes of Abraham, and blessed hym that had the promises. <sup>7</sup> And without all nay, he which is lesse, receaueth blessing of hym which is greater.

<sup>8</sup> And here, men that dye, receaueth tythes: but there, he receaueth tythes, of whom it is witnessed, that he lyueth. <sup>9</sup> And to say the truth, Leui him selfe also which receaueth tythes, payed tythes in Abraham. <sup>10</sup> For he was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met hym. <sup>11</sup> If now therefore perfection came by the Priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder that Priesthode the Lawe was established to the people) what neded it furthermore, that another Priest should ryse after the ordre of Melchi-sedec, and not to be called after the ordre of Aaron? <sup>12</sup> For douteles, if the Priesthod be translated, then of necessitie must the Lawe be translated also. <sup>13</sup> For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, of which neuer man serued at the autltre. <sup>14</sup> For it is euident, that our Lord spronge of the tribe of Iuda, as concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing touching the Priesthode.

generation is not numbered among them, tooke tythes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises. <sup>7</sup> But without al contradiction, that vvhich is lesse, is blessed of the better. <sup>8</sup> And here in deede, men that die, receiue tythes: but there he hath vvitnes, that he lyueth.

<sup>9</sup> And (that it may so be said) by Abraham Leui also, which receiued tythes, vvas tithed. <sup>10</sup> For as yet he vvas in his fathers loynes, vvhē Melchisedec mette him. <sup>11</sup> If them consummation vvas by the Leuitical priesthod (for vnder it the people receiued the Lavv) vvhāt necessitie vvas there yet another priest to rise according to the ordre of Melchisedec, and not to be called according to the ordre of Aaron? <sup>12</sup> For the priesthod being translated, it is necessarie that a translation of the Lavv also be made. <sup>13</sup> For he on vvhom these things be said, is of another tribe, of the vvhich, none attended on the altar.

<sup>14</sup> For it is manifest that our Lord sprung of Iuda: in the which tribe Moyses spake nothing of priestes. <sup>15</sup> And yet it is much more euident: if according to the similitude of Melchisedec there arise another priest, <sup>16</sup> vvhich vvas not made according to the Lavv of the carnal commandement, but according to the povver of life indissoluble. <sup>17</sup> For he vvitnessteth, That thou art a priest for euer, according to the ordre of Melchisedec. <sup>18</sup> Reprobation certes is made of the former commandement, because of the vveakenesse and vnprofitableness thereof. <sup>19</sup> For the Lavv brought nothing to perfection, but an introduction of a better hope, by the vvhich vve approche to God.

whose descent is not counted from them, receiued Tythes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises. <sup>7</sup> And without al contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the better.

<sup>8</sup> And here men that die receiue Tythes: but there hee receiue them, of whom it is witnessed that he lyueth. <sup>9</sup> And as I may so say, Leui also who receiue Tythes, payed Tythes in Abraham. <sup>10</sup> For hee was yet in the loynes of his Father when Melchisedec met him. <sup>11</sup> If therefore perfection were by the Leuitical Priesthood (for vnder it the people receiued the Law) what further neede was there, that another Priest should rise after the ordre of Melchisedec, and not be called after the ordre of Aaron? <sup>12</sup> For the Priesthood being changed, there is made of necessitie a change also of the Law. <sup>13</sup> For hee of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another Tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the Altar. <sup>14</sup> For it is euident that our Lord sprang out of Iuda, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning Priesthood. <sup>15</sup> And it is yet farre more euident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another Priest, <sup>16</sup> Who is made not after the Law of a carnall commandement, but after the power of an endlesse life. <sup>17</sup> For hee testifieth; Thou art a Priest for euer, after the ordre of Melchisedec. <sup>18</sup> For there is verily a disanulling of the commandement going before, for the weakenesse and vnprofitableness thereof.

bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should have had no more conscience of synnes? <sup>3</sup> But, in those sacrifices is there mention made of synnes eury yere.

<sup>4</sup> For it is vnpossible that the bloude of bulles, and goates should take away synnes. <sup>5</sup> Wherefore, when he cometh into the worlde, he sayth, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeyned me. <sup>6</sup> In burnt sacrifices and synne offeringes thou hast no pleasure. <sup>7</sup> Then I sayd, Lo I am here (In the begynnyng of the booke it is written of me) that I should do thy wyl, ὁ God. <sup>8</sup> Above, when he had sayd, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt sacrifices, and synne offerings thou wouldest not haue, nether hast allowed (which yet are offered by the Lawe) <sup>9</sup> Then sayd he, Lo I am here to do thy wyl, ὁ God: he taketh away the fyrst, to establish the latter. <sup>10</sup> By the which wyl, we are sanctified, by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once made.

<sup>11</sup> And euery Priest appeareth dayly ministryng, and ofte tymes offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away synnes: <sup>12</sup> But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for synnes, sitteth for euer at the ryght hand of God: <sup>13</sup> And from hence forth taryeth, tyl his foes be made his fote stole. <sup>14</sup> For with one offering hath he made perfect for euer them that are sanctified. <sup>15</sup> For the holy Ghost also beareth vs recorde euen when he tolde before, <sup>16</sup> This is the Couenant that I wyl make vnto the after those dayes, sayth the Lord, I wyl put my Lawes in theyr hearts, and in theyr myndes I wyl wryte them. <sup>17</sup> And theyr synnes and iniquities wyl I remember no more. <sup>18</sup> And where remission of these thynges is, there is no more offering for synne.

worshippers once cleansed should haue no conscience of sinne any longer. <sup>3</sup> but in them there is made a commemoration of sinne eury yere. <sup>4</sup> for it is impossible that with the bloud of oxen and goates sinnes should be taken away.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore comming into the vvorlde he saith: Host and oblation thou vvorldest not: but a body thou hast fitted to me: <sup>6</sup> Holocaustes and for sinne did not please thee. <sup>7</sup> Then said I, Behold I come: in the head of the booke it is written of me: That I may doe thy vvil ὁ God. <sup>8</sup> Saying before, Because hostes and oblations and holocaustes, and for sinne thou vvorldest not, neither did they please thee, vvhich are offered according to the lavv, <sup>9</sup> then said I, Behold I come that I may doe thy vvil ὁ God: he taketh away the first, that he may establish that that folovveth. <sup>10</sup> In the vvhich vvil, vve are sanctified by the oblation of the body of IESVS Christ once.

the worshippers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes? <sup>3</sup> But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe made of sinnes eury yeere. <sup>4</sup> For it is not possible that the blood of Bulls and of Goats, should take away sinnes.

<sup>5</sup> Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body <sup>a</sup> hast thou prepared me: <sup>6</sup> In burnt offerings, and sacrifices for sinne thou hast had no pleasure: <sup>7</sup> Then said I, Lo, I come. (In the volume of the booke it is written of me) to doe thy will, O God. <sup>8</sup> Above when hee said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt offerings, and offering for sinne thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, which are offered by the Law: <sup>9</sup> Then said he, Lo, I come to doe thy will (O God): He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second. <sup>10</sup> By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once for all. <sup>11</sup> And euery Priest standeth dayly ministryng, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can neuer take away sinnes. <sup>12</sup> But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sinnes for euer, satte downe on the right hand of God, <sup>13</sup> From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool. <sup>14</sup> For by one offering he hath perfected for euer them that are sanctified. <sup>15</sup> Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to vs: for after that he had said before, <sup>16</sup> This is the Couenant that I wyl make with them after those dayes, saith the Lord: I wyl put my Lawes into their hearts, and in their myndes will I write them: <sup>17</sup> And their synnes and iniquities will I remember no more. <sup>18</sup> Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sinne.

<sup>12</sup> For the vvch cause stretch vp the slacked handes and the loose knees: <sup>13</sup> and make straight steppes to your fetes: that no man halting erre, but rather be healed. <sup>14</sup> Follow peace wth all men, and holinesse: vvithout vvch no man shal see God: <sup>15</sup> looking diligently lest any man be vvanting to the grace of God: lest any roote of bitternes springing vp do hinder, and by it many be polluted. <sup>16</sup> Lest there be any fornicator or prophane person as Esau: vvho for one dish of meate sold his first-birth-rightes. <sup>17</sup> For knowv ye that afterward also desiring to inherit the benediction, he vvvas reprobated: for he found not place of repentance, although vvith teares he had sought it.

<sup>18</sup> For you are not come to a palpable mount, and an accessible fire, and vvhirlevvvnde, and darckenes, and storme, <sup>19</sup> and the sound of trompet, and voyce of vvordes, vvch they that heard, excused them selues, that the vvord might not be spoken to them, (<sup>20</sup> for they did not beare that which was said, And if a beast shal touche the mount, it shal be stoned.) <sup>21</sup> And so terrible vvvas it vvch vvvas seen, Moses said: I am frighted and tremble.

not? <sup>8</sup> But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are cō partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

<sup>9</sup> Furthermore, we haue had fathers of our flesh, which corrected vs, and we gaue them reuerence: shall we not much rather bee in subiection vnto the Father of Spirits, and liue? <sup>10</sup> For they verily for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure, but he for our profit, that we might bee partakers of his holinesse. <sup>11</sup> Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grievous: neuertheless, afterward it yeldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousnesse, vnto them which are exercised thereby. <sup>12</sup> Wherefore lift vp the handes which hang downe, and the feeble knees. <sup>13</sup> And make straight pathes for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way, but let it rather bee healed.

<sup>14</sup> Follow peace with all men, and holinesse, without which no man shall see the Lord: <sup>15</sup> Looking diligently, lest any man faile of the grace of God, lest any roote of bitternes springing vp, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled: <sup>16</sup> Lest there be any fornicator, or prophane person, as Esau, who for one morsell of meat sold his birthright. <sup>17</sup> For ye know how that afterward when hee would haue inherited the blessing, hee was reiected: for hee found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with teares.

<sup>18</sup> For ye are not come vnto the Mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor vnto blacknesse, and darcknesse, and tempest, <sup>19</sup> And the sound of a Trumpet, and the voyce of wordes, which voyce they that heard, entreated that the word should not bee spoken to them any more. <sup>20</sup> For they could not indure that which was commanded: And if so much as a beast touch the Mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart. <sup>21</sup> And so terrible was the sight, that Moses saide, I exceedingly feare, and quake.

<sup>13</sup> Let no man when he is tempted, say that he is tempted of God. for God is not a tempter of euils, and he tempteth no man. <sup>14</sup> But euery one is tempted of his owne concupiscence abstracted and allured. <sup>15</sup> Afterward concupiscence when it hath conceived, bringeth forth sinne. but sinne when it is consummate, ingendreth death.

<sup>16</sup> Do not erre therefore my dearest brethren. <sup>17</sup> Euery best gift, and euery perfect gift, is from aboue, descending from the Father of lightes, with vvhom is no transmutation, nor shadowing of alteration. <sup>18</sup> Voluntarily hath he begotten vs by the vvord of truth, that vve may be some beginning of his creature. <sup>19</sup> You knovv my dearest brethren, And let euery man be swift to heare: but slow to speake, and slow to anger. <sup>20</sup> For the anger of man vvorketh not the iustice of God.

5. GOE to now, ye rich men, weep and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you. <sup>2</sup> Your riches are corrupted, and your garments motheaten : <sup>3</sup> Your gold and siluer is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eate your flesh as it were fire : ye haue heaped treasure together for the last dayes. <sup>4</sup> Behold, the hire of the labourers which haue reaped downe your fields, which is of you kept backe by fraud, cryeth : and the cryes of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of Sabbath. <sup>5</sup> Yee haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and bene wanton : ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter : <sup>6</sup> Yee haue condemned, and killed the iust, and hee doeth not resist you.

<sup>7</sup> Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the comming of the Lord : behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, vntill hee receivee the early and latter raine. <sup>8</sup> Be ye also patient ; stablish your hearts : for the comming of the Lord draweth nigh. <sup>9</sup> Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned : behold, the iudge standeth before the doore. <sup>10</sup> Take, my brethren, the Prophets, who haue spoken in the Name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience. <sup>11</sup> Behold, wee count them happy which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue scene the end of the Lord : that the Lord is very pitifull and of tender mercy. <sup>12</sup> But aboute all things, my brethren, swaere not, neither by heauen, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath : but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay : lest ye fall into condemnation.

<sup>10</sup> Or, be long patient, or, suffer with long patience.<sup>11</sup> Or, graue, or, grieue not.

GENEVA — 1557.

I stere vp, and warne your pure myndes, <sup>2</sup> To call to remembrance the wordes, which were told before of the holy Prophets, and also the commandement of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Sauour.

<sup>3</sup> This fyrst vnderstande, that there shall come in the last dayes, mockers, which wyl walke after their lustes. <sup>4</sup> And say, Where is the promis of his comming? for synce the fathers died, all thinges continue in the same estate wher in they were at the beginning. <sup>5</sup> For this they knowe not (and that willingly) how that the heauens a great whyle ago were, by the worde of God, and the earth that was in the water appeared vp out of the water, <sup>6</sup> Wherefore the world that then was, perished, ouerflowed with the water.

<sup>7</sup> But the heauens and earth, which are now, are kept by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto fyre, against the day of damnation, and destruction of vngodly men. <sup>8</sup> Derely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thinge, how that owne day is with the Lord, as a thousand yere, and a thousand yere, as one day. <sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slacke to fulfil his promes (as some men count slacknes) but is patient to swaue, and wolde haue no man lost, but woulde receaue all men to repentance.

<sup>10</sup> And the day of the Lord wyl come as a thiefe in the night, in the which day the heauens shal passe away with a noyse, and the elementes shal melt with heate, and the earth with the workes, that are therein shal burne. <sup>11</sup> Seing therefore all these thinges muste be dissolued, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlynnes? <sup>12</sup> Loking for, and hastnyng vnto the comming in the day of God, in which the heauens shal be dissolued with fyre, and the elementes shal melt with heat. <sup>13</sup> But, we loke for new heauens, and a new earth, according to his promis, wherin dwelleth righteousness.

RHEIMS — 1582.

by admonition your sincere minde: <sup>2</sup> that you may be mindful of those wordes which I told you before from the holy Prophets, and of your Apostles, of the preceptes of our Lord and Sauour. <sup>3</sup> Knowing this first, that in the last dayes shal come mockers in deceit, vvaiking according to their owne concupiscences, <sup>4</sup> saying, Vvhere is his promise or his comming? For since the time that the fathers slept, all things do so perseuer from the beginning of creature. <sup>5</sup> For they are vvilfully ignorant of this, that the heauens vvcre before, and the earth, out of vvater, and through vvater, consisting by the vvord of God: <sup>6</sup> by the vvich, that vvorld then, being ouerflowed vvith vvater perished.

<sup>7</sup> But the heauens vvchich novv are, and the earth, are by the same vvord kept in store, reserued to fyre vnto the day of iudgement and of the perdition of the impius men. <sup>8</sup> But this one thing be not ignorant of, my dearest, that one day vvith our Lord is as a thousand yeres, and a thousand yeres as one day. <sup>9</sup> Our Lord slacketh not his promis, as some do esteeme it: but he doth patiently for you, not vvilling that any perish, but that all returne to penance. <sup>10</sup> And the day of our Lord shal come as a theeve in the vvchich the heauens shal passe vvith great violence, but the elementes shal be resolued vvith heate, and the earth and the vvorkes vvchich are in it, shal be burnt.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore vvhereas al these thinges are to be dissolued: vvhat maner of men ought you to be in holy conuersations and godlinesse, <sup>12</sup> expecting and hastnyng vnto the comming of the day of our Lord, by vvchich the heauens burning shal be resolued, and the elementes shal melt vvith the heate of fyre: <sup>13</sup> But vve expect nevvy heauens and a nevvy earth according to his promises, in vvchich iustice inhabiteth.

AUTHORISED — 1611.

vp your pure mindes by way of remembrance: <sup>2</sup> That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy Prophets, and of the Commandement of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Sauour: <sup>3</sup> Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes scoffers, walking after their owne lusts, <sup>4</sup> And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? For since the Fathers fell asleepe, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. <sup>5</sup> For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heauens were of old, and the earth <sup>6</sup> standing out of the water, and in the water, <sup>6</sup> Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished. <sup>7</sup> But the heauens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserued vnto fire against the day of Iudgement, and perdition of vngodly men.

<sup>8</sup> But (beloued) be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day. <sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slacke concerning his promise (as some men count slackenesse) but is long-suffering to vs-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. <sup>10</sup> But the day of the Lord will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a great noise, and the Elements shall melt with feruent heat, the earth also and the workes that are therein shall be burnt vp. <sup>11</sup> Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolued, what maner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conuersation, and godlinesse, <sup>12</sup> Looking for and hastnyng vnto the comming of the day of God, wherein the heauens being on fyre shall be dissolued, and the Elements shall melt with feruent heat? <sup>13</sup> Neuerthelesse we, according to his promise, looke for new heauens, and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Lambe as it had been slaine, hauing seven hornes, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth. <sup>7</sup> And he came, and tooke the booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the Throne. <sup>8</sup> And when he had taken the booke, the foure Beasts, and foure and twenty Elders fell doune before the Lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints: <sup>9</sup> And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast slaine, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of euery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation: <sup>10</sup> And hast made vs vnto our God Kings and Priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

<sup>11</sup> And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels, round about the Throne, and the beastes, and the Elders, and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousandes of thousandes, <sup>12</sup> Saying with a lowd voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was slaine, to receiue power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing. <sup>13</sup> And euery creature which is in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe for euer and euer. <sup>14</sup> And the foure beasts sayd, Amen. And the foure and twenty Elders fell doune and worshipped him that liueth for euer and euer.

6. AND I saw when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard as it were the noise of thunder, one of the foure beastes, saying, Come and see. <sup>2</sup> And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and hee that sate on him had a bowe, the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I saw her, I wondrous with great admiration. <sup>7</sup> And the Angel said vnto mee, Wherefore didst thou maruel? I will tell thee the myserie of the woman, and of the beast that carieth her, which hath the seven heades, and ten hornes.

<sup>8</sup> The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascende out of the bottomlesse pit, and goe into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shal wonder, (whose names were not wrytten in the booke of life from the foundation of the world) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is. <sup>9</sup> And here is the mind which hath wisdome. The seven heades are seven mountaynes, on which the woman sitteth.

<sup>10</sup> And there are seven Kings, fyue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. <sup>11</sup> And the beast that was, and is not, euen he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition. <sup>12</sup> And the ten hornes which thou sawest, are ten kynges, which haue receiued no kyngdome as yet: but receiue power as kyngs one houre with the beast. <sup>13</sup> These haue one minde, and shall giue their power and strength

THE increased zeal which is daily manifested for the study of the Scriptures in their original languages seems to hold out to the friends of Theological learning the best hope of a continuance of true Church Scholarship. For although the great and essential truths of Revelation are placed within the reach of all who can study the English Translation, yet we think that few will deny but that much instruction, of no ordinary value and interest, rewards those who read in the Original the writings which form the basis of their private studies and their public teaching; and who thus enjoy the advantage of examining the work itself, instead of trusting to a translation however faithful and spirited.

The general arguments, however, in favour of the study of Hebrew in particular, have been satisfactorily responded to by the demand for all well executed works on that subject, whether as regards Grammars and Lexicons, or publications for the explanation of particular portions of Holy Writ; so

ISAIAH, CHAP. I.

THE vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. <sup>2</sup> Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. <sup>3</sup> The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. <sup>4</sup> Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward.

<sup>5</sup> Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. <sup>6</sup> From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment. <sup>7</sup> Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

<sup>8</sup> And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. <sup>9</sup> Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

<sup>10</sup> Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom: give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah. <sup>11</sup> To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats. <sup>12</sup> When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

<sup>13</sup> Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with; it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

<sup>14</sup> Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them. <sup>15</sup> And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. <sup>16</sup> Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; <sup>17</sup> Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. <sup>18</sup> Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall

ISAIA, CAP. I.

Visio Isaïæ filii Amos, quam vidit super Judam et Jerusalem in diebus Ozïæ, Joathan, Achaz, et Ezechïæ, regum Juda. <sup>2</sup> Audite cæli, et auribus percipe terra, quoniam Dominus locutus est. Filios enutrivit, et exaltavi: ipsi autem spreverunt me. <sup>3</sup> Cognovit bos possessorem suum, et asinus præsepe domini sui: Israël autem me non cognovit, et populus meus non intellexit. <sup>4</sup> Væ genti peccatrici, populo gravi iniquitate, semini nequam, filiis sceleratis: dereliquerunt Dominum, blasphemaverunt sanctum Israël, abalienati sunt retrorsum.

that it may safely be asserted, that a knowledge of Hebrew is universally admitted as indispensable for the Theological writer, and certainly is a most valuable qualification for any religious instructor.

The object of the publication now contemplated may be briefly explained. The Editor having been for many years accustomed to read, preparatory to each Sunday, the Lessons of that day in their originals, and having of late years been successful in introducing that study among the higher pupils of his school, has met with the difficulties which might naturally be expected in such reading. For while we study in the Hebrew, we must compare the older versions, at least the Septuagint and the Vulgate; and to have these together with the English Translation before the eye at one view, requires an accommodation not afforded by any one book yet published. The only volume within ordinary reach which would seem calculated for such a purpose, is the Polyglot Bible, in Eight Languages, of Mr. Bagster; but the very compactness and comprehensiveness of that book, required a type smaller than might be convenient to many.

There are also many Clergymen well acquainted with Hebrew who gradually allow their knowledge of it to drop, or at least, do not extend it, because they feel at a loss how to select portions which they may follow up with advantage.

Liverpool; April, 1841.

There are many in our Cathedrals and Colleges, and in Churches, where more than one Minister is engaged in the service, who, it is presumed, would gladly avail themselves of the recurrence of these well-known selections, to have them brought before their eye with every illustration, as often as they are repeated in their hearing. It was to meet the views of such of the Clergy as are thus situated that this volume was contemplated; but more especially in the hope that the facilities here afforded to those who are about to take Holy Orders, might enable them to comprehend more perfectly the portions of the Old Testament which the Church has thus selected, and these might lead them to a more extended but equally minute investigation of all Scripture.

The Editor no sooner submitted the idea of this publication to Messrs. Bagster and Sons, but they undertook it with that zeal and cordiality which has so long characterized their exertions in all departments of Biblical literature, and while their name will be a sufficient guarantee to the Public for the execution and accuracy of the work, the Editor is happy that, by being allowed to give his services as it passes through the press, he is enabled to offer this testimony of his reverence for the Church, and his sincere desire to aid her teaching.

A Prospectus and Specimen of an interesting work, nearly ready for publication, entitled THE ENGLISH HEXAPLA, may also be obtained from the Publishers, free of postage or other expense. The English Hexapla consists of the GREEK TEXT OF THE NEW TESTAMENT (Scholz), with various readings; with the Six important early English Versions of—
