46 Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great nombre of people, Bartimeus the sonne of Timæus which was blinde, sate by the hye wayes syde beggyng. 47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me. 48 And many rebuked hym, to the ende that he should holde hys peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me. 49 Then Iesus stode styl, and commanded hym to be called: and they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good confort: ryse, he calleth thee. 50 And he threwe away his cloke, and rose and came to Iesus. 51 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto hym, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? The blinde said vnto him, Master, that I might see. 52 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Go thy way, thy faith hath saued thee: and by and by, he receaued his sight, and folowed Iesus in the way.

11. AND when they came nye to Ierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethanie, besydes the hil of Oliues, he sent forth two of his disciples, 2 And sayd vnto them, Go your wayes into that village that is ouer agaynst you: and as some as ye shal entre into it, ye shal fynde a colte bounde, wheron neuer man sate: lose him and bring him. 3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe ye so? Say that the Lord hath nede of hym: and straight way he wil send hym hither. 4 And they went their way & found a colte tyed by the dore without, in a place wher two wayes met, and they losed him. 5 Then certaine of them that stode there, sayd vnto them, What doe ye loosyng the colte? 6 And they sayd vnto them euen as Iesus had commanded them. And they let them go. 7 They brought therfore the colte to Iesus, and cast their garmentes on him: and he sate vpon him.

46 And they come to Iericho: and vwhen he departed from Iericho, and his Disciples, and a very great multitude, the some of Timæus, Bar-timæus the blinde man, sate by the way side begging. 47 Vwho vwhen he had heard, that it is Iesus of Nazareth: he began to crie, and to say, Iesus, sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon me. 48 And many threatened him, to hold his peace, but he cried much more, Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon me. 49 And Iesus standing stil commaunded him to be called. And they call the blinde man, saying to him, Be of better comfort, arise, he calleth thee. 50 Vwho casting of his garment leapt vp, and came to him. 51 And Iesus ansvvering, said to him, Vwhat vult thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde man said to him, Rabbōni, that I may see. 52 And Iesus said to him, Goe thy vvaies, thy faith hath made the safe. And forthvwith he savv, and folloved him in the vway.

11. AND vwhen they came nigh vnto Hierusalem and Bethania to Mount-olivet, he sendeth tvvo of his Disciples, 2 and saith to them, Goe into the tovvne that is against you, and immediatly entring in thither, you shal fynde a colt tyed, vpon vvhich no man yet hath sitten: loose him, and bring him. 3 And if any man shal say to you, Vvat doe you? say that he is needefull for our Lord: and incontinent he vvil send him hither. 4 And going their vvayes, they found the colt tyed before the gate vwithout in the meeting of two vvayes: and they loose him. 5 And certaine of them that stooed there, said to them, Vvhat doe you loosyng the colt? 6 Vwho said to them as Iesus had commaunded them: and they did let him goe vvith them. 7 And they brought the colt to Iesus: and they lay their garmentes vpon

 This is the first commandment. And the second is like unto this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self. There is none other commandment greater than these. And the Scribe said unto him, Well Master, thou hast said it truthfully,
 that there is one God, and that there is none but he. And to love him with all the heart, and with all the might, and with all the soul, and with all the strength,
 and to love his neighbour as him self,

 answered discreetly, he said unto him,
 Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that hour asked him any question.

 ing in the temple. How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of David? For David him self said by the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord,
 sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. Then David him self called him Lord, and by what name is he then his sonne? And multitudes heard him gladly.

And he said unto them, in the doctrine of Moses what say ye to him that is long clothing and blue saltation in the market places? And he said, saying in the Synagogs, and in the Synagogs, witness-

And Jesus said unto the people, and the doctrine. Take heede of the Scribes that are long robes, and be salted in

<sup>36</sup> And there was one Anna a Prophetesse, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser; she was of a great age, and had liued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginitie. <sup>37</sup> And shee was a widow of about fourescore and foure yeeres, which departed not from the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers nyght and day. <sup>38</sup> And she comming in that instant, gaue thanks likewise vnto the Lord, and spake of him to al them that looked for redemption in Hierusalem. <sup>39</sup> And when they had performed all things according to the Lawe of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their owne cite Nazareth. <sup>40</sup> And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisedome, and the grace of God was vpon him.

<sup>41</sup> Now his parents went to Hierusalem euery yere, at the feast of the Passeouer. <sup>42</sup> And when he was twelue yeeres old, they went vp to Hierusalem, after the custome of the feast. <sup>43</sup> And when they had fulfilled the dayes, as they returned, the childe Iesus taried behind in Hierusalem, and Ioseph and his mother knew not of it. <sup>44</sup> But they supposing him to haue bene in the company, went a daies iourney, and they sought him among their kinsfolke and acquaintance. <sup>45</sup> And when they found him not, they turned backe again to Hierusalem, seeking him. <sup>46</sup> And it came to passe, that after three daies they found him in the Temple, sitting in the midst of the Doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions. <sup>47</sup> And all that heard him were astonished at his vnderstanding, and answers. <sup>48</sup> And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said vp and walke? <sup>24</sup> But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power vpon earth to forgiue sinnes (he said vnto the sicke of the palsey.) I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy couch, and go into thine house. <sup>25</sup> And immediately he rose vp before them, and tooke vp that whereon hee lay, and departed to his owne house, glorifying God. <sup>26</sup> And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with feare, saying, Wee haue scene strange things to day.

<sup>27</sup> And after these things hee went fourth, and sawe a Publicane, named Leui, sitting at the receipt of custome: and he said vnto him, Follow me. <sup>28</sup> And he left all, rose vp, and folowed him. <sup>29</sup> And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great company of Publicanes, and of others that sate downe with them. <sup>30</sup> But their Scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why doe ye eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners? <sup>31</sup> And Iesus answering, saide vnto them, They that are whole neede not a physician: but they that are sicke. <sup>32</sup> I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

<sup>33</sup> And they said vnto him, Why doe the disciples of Iohn fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees: but thine eate and drinke? <sup>34</sup> And he said vnto them, Can ye make the children of the Bridechamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them? <sup>35</sup> But the dayes wyl come, when the Bridegrome shal be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

<sup>36</sup> And he spake also a parable vnto them, No man putteth a peece of a new garment vpon an olde: if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the peece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old. <sup>37</sup> And no man putteth is not about his master : but euery one <sup>a</sup> that is perfect shalbe as his master.

<sup>41</sup> And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beamc that is in thine owne eye ? <sup>42</sup> Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye : when thou thy self beholdest not the beamc that is in thine owne eye ? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beamc out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye. <sup>43</sup> For a good tree bringeth not fourth corrupt frute : neither doeth a corrupt tree bring fourth good frute. <sup>44</sup> For every tree is knoven by his owne frute : for of thornes men doe not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. <sup>45</sup> A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth fourth that which is good : and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart, bringeth fourth that which is euill : For of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

<sup>46</sup> And why call ye mee Lord, Lord, and doe not the things which I say ? <sup>47</sup> Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like. <sup>48</sup> Hee is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layed the foundation on a rocke. And when the flood arose, the streame beat vehemently vpon that house, and could not shake it : for it was founded vpon a rocke. <sup>49</sup> But hee that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house vpon the earth : against which the streame did beat vehemently, and immediatly it fell, and the ruine of that house was great.

<sup>52</sup> Woe vnto you Lawyers: for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues, and them that were entring in, ye hindred. <sup>53</sup> And as he said these things vnto them, the Scribes and the Pharisees began to vrge him vvhemently, and to prouoke him to speake of many things: <sup>54</sup> Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

12. IN the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inso much that they trode one vpon another, he began to say vnto his disciples first of all, Beware yee of the leauen of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisye. <sup>2</sup> For there is nothing couered, that shall not be reuealed, neither hid, that shall not be known. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, whatsoever yee haue spoken in darcknesse, shall be heard in the light: and that which yee haue spoken in the eare, in closets, shall be proclaimed vpon the house tops. <sup>4</sup> And I say vnto you my friends, Bee not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, haue no more that they can doe. <sup>5</sup> But I wil forswearne you whom you shall feare: Feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell, yea, I say vnto you, Feare him. <sup>6</sup> Are not fyue sparowes solde for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? <sup>7</sup> But euen the very haire of your head are all numbred: Feare not therefore, yee are of more value then many sparowes. <sup>8</sup> Also I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall confesse me before men, him shall the Sonne of man also confesse before the Angels of God. <sup>9</sup> But he that denieth me before men, shalbe denied before the Angels of God. <sup>10</sup> And whosoeuer shall speake a word against the Sonne of man, it shall be forgiuen him: but vnto him that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost, it shal not be forgiuen. <sup>11</sup> And when they bring you vnto

14. AND it thus came to passe that when he was entred in to the house of one of the chief Pharises on the Sabbath day, to take his refection, they watched hym. <sup>2</sup> And beholde, there was a certain man before hym, which had the dropsie. <sup>3</sup> Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the expounders of the lawe, and Pharises, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day? <sup>4</sup> And they held their peace. Then he toke him, and healed him, and let him go. <sup>5</sup> And answered them, saying, Which of you shal haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pyt, and wyl not straightway pul him out on the Sabbath day? <sup>6</sup> And they could not answer him agayn to those thinges.

<sup>7</sup> He put forth also a similitude to the geastes, when he marked how they pressed to the hiest rowmes, and sayd vnto them. <sup>8</sup> When thou shalt be bydden to a weddyng of any man, syt not downe in the hiest rowme, lest a more honorable man then thou be bydden of him. <sup>9</sup> And he that bade both hym and thee, come and say to thee, Geue this man rowme, and thou then begyn with shame to take the lowest rowme. <sup>10</sup> But rather when thou art bydden, go and syt in the lowest rowme, that when he that had thee cometh, he may say vnto thee, Friend syt vp hyer: then shalt thou haue worship in the presence of them that syt at meat with thee.

<sup>11</sup> For whosoever exalteth hym selfe, shalbe broght lowe: and he that humbleth hym selfe, shalbe exalted. <sup>12</sup> Then sayd he also to hym that had desired him to dyner, When thou makest a diner or a supper, call not thy fryendes, nor thy brethren, neither thy kynsemen, or yet ryche neyghbours: lest they also byd thee agayn, and a recompence be made thee. <sup>13</sup> But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maymed, the lame, and the bynd. <sup>14</sup> And thou shalt be happy, for they can not recompence thee.

14. AND it came to passe vvhē Iesus entred into the house of a certaine Prince of the Pharisees vpon the Sabbath to eate bread, and they vntatched him. <sup>2</sup> And behold there vvas a certaine man before him that had the dropsie. <sup>3</sup> And Iesus answering, spake to the Lavvyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it Lawfull to cure on the Sabbath? <sup>4</sup> But they held their peace. but he taking him, healed him, and sent him avway. <sup>5</sup> And answering them he said, Vvwhich of you shal haue an asse or an oxe fallen into a pit: and vvil not incontinent dravy him out on the Sabbath day? <sup>6</sup> And they could not ansvver him to these thinges.

<sup>7</sup> And he spake to them also that vvere inuited a parable, marking hovv they chose the first seats at the table, saying to them, <sup>8</sup> When thou art inuited to a mariage, sit not dovne in the first place, lest perhaps a more honorable then thou be inuited of him: <sup>9</sup> and he that bade thee and him, come and say to thee, Giue this man place: and then thou begin vvith shame to take the last place. <sup>10</sup> But vvhēn thou art bidden, goe, sit dovne in the lowest place: that vvhen he that inuited thee, cometh, he may say to thee, Frende, sit vp higher: then shalt thou haue glorie before them that sit at table vvith thee. <sup>11</sup> because euery one that exalteth him selfe, shal be humbled: and he that humbleth him selfe, shal be exalted.

<sup>12</sup> And he said to him also that had inuited him, Vvhen thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy fryendes, nor thy brethren, nor kinsmen, nor thy neyghbours that are riche: lest perhaps they also inuite thee againe, and recompence be made to thee. <sup>13</sup> But vvhēn thou makest a feast, cal the poore, feeble, lame, and blinde, <sup>14</sup> and thou shalt be blessed, because they haue not to recompence thee:

<sup>17</sup> And Iesus answered and sayde: are ther not ten clensted? But where are those nyne? <sup>18</sup> Ther are not founde that returned agane, to geve God prayse, save only this straunger. <sup>19</sup> And he sayde vnto
 him: aryse, and goo thy waye, thy faith
 hath made the whoale.

<sup>20</sup> When he was demaunded of the pharises, when the kyngdome of God
 shuld come: he answered them and sayde:
 The kyngdome of God cometh not with waytinge for. <sup>21</sup> Nether shall men saye: Loo here; loothere. For beholde, the kyngdome of God is with in you.

<sup>22</sup> And he sayde vnto the disciples: The
 dayes will come, when ye shall desyre to se

My house is the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a den of theeues. <sup>47</sup> And he taught daily in the Temple. But the chief Priests and the Scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, <sup>48</sup> And could not finde what they might doe: for all the people<sup>a</sup> were very attentiu to hear him.

20. AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the chief Priests and the Scribes came vpon him, with the Elders, <sup>2</sup> And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs, by what autoritie doest thou these things? or who is hee that gaue thee this autoritie? <sup>3</sup> And he answered, and saide vnto them, I will also aske you one thing, and answer me. <sup>4</sup> The Baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? <sup>5</sup> And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleueed ye him not? <sup>6</sup> But and if we say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they are perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet. <sup>7</sup> And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was. <sup>8</sup> And Iesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what autoritie I doe these things. <sup>9</sup> Then began he to speake to the people this parable: A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a farre cuntry for a long time. <sup>10</sup> And at the season, he sent a seruaut to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard, but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. <sup>11</sup> And againe he sent another seruaut, and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. <sup>12</sup> And againe he sent the third, and they wounded him also, and cast him out. <sup>13</sup> Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloued sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him. <sup>14</sup> But when the husbandmen vvhich beleueeth in him, perish not, but may haue life euerlasting. <sup>16</sup> For so God loued the world, that he gaue his only-begotten sonne: that euery one that beleueeth in him, perish not, but may haue life euerlasting. <sup>17</sup> For God sent not his sonne into the world, to iudge the world, but that the world may be saued by him. <sup>18</sup> He that beleueeth in him, is not iudged, but he that doeth not beleuee, is already iudged: because he hath not beleueed in the name of the only-begotten sonne of God.

<sup>19</sup> And this is the iudgment: because the light is come into the world, and men haue loued the darkenesse rather then the light: for their vvorkes vvare euil. <sup>20</sup> For euery one that doeth il, hateth the light, and commeth not to the light, that his vvorkes may not be controuled. <sup>21</sup> But he that doeth veritie, commeth to the light, that his vvorkes may be made manifest, because they vvare done in God.

<sup>22</sup> After these things Iesus came and his Disciples into the countrie of Ierivrie: and there he abode vvith them, and baptized. <sup>23</sup> And Iohn also vvaz baptizing in tEnon beside Salim: because there vvaz much vvater there, and they came, and vvare baptized. <sup>24</sup> For Iohn vvaz not yet cast into prison. <sup>25</sup> And there rose a question of Iohns disciples vvith the Iewes concerning purification. <sup>26</sup> And they came to Iohn, and said to him, Rabbi, he that vvaz vvith thee beyond Iordan, to vvhom thou didst giue testimonie, behold he baptizeth, and al come to him. <sup>27</sup> Iohn answered and said, A man can not receiue any thing, vnlesse it be giuen him from heauen. <sup>28</sup> Your selues doe beare me vvitness, that I said, I am not CHRISST: but that I am sent before him. <sup>29</sup> He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the frende of the bridegrome that standeth and heareth him, reioyceeth vvith ioy beleueeth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

<sup>16</sup> For God so loued the world, that he gaue his only begotten Sonne: that whosoever beleueeth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life. <sup>17</sup> For God sent not his Sonne into the world to condemne the world: but that the world through him might be saued.

<sup>18</sup> He that beleueeth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleueed in the Name of the onely begotten Sonne of God. <sup>19</sup> And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darknesse rather then light, because their dedes were euill. <sup>20</sup> For euery one that doeth euil, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, lest his dedes should be reprovud. <sup>21</sup> But hee that doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his dedes may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

<sup>23</sup> And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neere to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. <sup>24</sup> For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

<sup>25</sup> Then there arose a question betweene some of Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying. <sup>26</sup> And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. <sup>27</sup> Iohn answered, and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen. <sup>28</sup> Ye your selues beare me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. <sup>29</sup> He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome, which standeth and stouped downe, and wrote on the ground. <sup>9</sup> And they which heard it, being conuicted by their owne conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. <sup>10</sup> When Iesus had lift vp himselfe, and saw none but the woman, hee said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? Hath no man condemned thee? <sup>11</sup> She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus said vnto her, Neither doe I condemne thee: Goe, and sinne no more.

<sup>12</sup> Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darknesse, but shall haue the light of life. <sup>13</sup> The Pharisees therefore said vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true. <sup>14</sup> Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I goe. <sup>15</sup> Yee iudge after the flesh, I iudge no man. <sup>16</sup> And yet if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. <sup>17</sup> It is also written in your Law, that the testimonie of two men is true. <sup>18</sup> I am one that beare witness of my selfe, and the Father that sent mee, beareth witness of me.

<sup>19</sup> Then said they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had knowen mee, ye should haue knowen my Father also.

<sup>20</sup> These words spake Iesus in the treasury, as hee taught in the Temple: and no man layd hands on him, for his houre was not yet come. <sup>21</sup> Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your sinnes: Whither I goe, ye cannot come. <sup>22</sup> Then said the Iewes, Will hee kill himselfe? because he
